A smart coat is a good letter of introduction

The old Dutch proverb is right about it. When a man can get a smart coat for less than he has been paying for the cheap, ordinary hand-me-down kind, why should he not use this means of introducing himself as a wise man and a man who appreciates good goods at living prices?

THE WELL-DRESSED MAN

always has an advantage over the shabby one. He may not know as much, or be able to accomplish as much, but it gives him a precedence that may not even allow the other fellow to show what he can do. Two lawyers were discussing the misfortunes of a classmate, and one of them said: "He is as bright as you or I and he knows a lot more about law than the fellow who got the appointment, but who is going to look twice at a man with his shabby clothes and apologetic air?" He would not have the apologetic air if he had been well dressed, and no man can afford to go shabby while these great bargains in clothing are being handed out over the counters of Rowe & Kelly's store. Come in and try on a suit, and if it fits you—as it will—wear it. You can't afford not to dress neatly when a Princeton Hand-Made Suit can be bought here for less than shoddy goods elsewhere.

DIAMONDS

We pay the largest merchandise tax of any jeweler in the State of Utah. Look at the records for verification of the statement.

Diamonds comprise the largest part of the total valuation of a jeweler's stock. One may draw his own conclusions as to who shows the diamond line in Salt Lake.

Buying a diamond marks an epoch in the lives of most people—thousands never possess even a small one—so it behooves the buyer to be sure of the color, quality and general value before buying, and this can only be safeguarded by dealing with a house of unquestionable reputation. We offer our years of experience and our reputation for fair dealing as your safeguard, together with an unusual stock of jewels from which to select.
